- * examine the way young people perceive the functionality of mobile phone of use of a access available features.
- * identify and document their diversity for public and awareness of the time of mobile.
- * identify the different associations with various phone
- * investigate their awareness with regards to the recent launch of mobile handset in the market.
- * understand their perceptions for issues like mental health effects and privacy implications.

• Uses of Mobile Phone Objectives :-

Mobile Phone have transformed many business activities because they allow employees to communicate instantly facilitating many business processes that would otherwise be slow. Business oriented mobile phone can be provided to staff and managers who have to work with their away to email and other digital forms of communication.

1. Access, Safety

• The primary objective of mobile phone in business environments is to provide the access safety of business information.

• No matter how the nature of an employee is in the office or out.

• Check out on business travel or business meeting and on business travel or field calls and check voice - mail messages just as if they were at their desk in the office.

• This type of accessibility gives some businesses objectives.

1. Internet Access :-

* While laptops have been commonly used to access the Internet, which employees use to conduct mobile phones are quickly replacing them.

* Mobile phones can also be used to provide an Internet connection to check Internet content during the connection provided by the cell phone network.

2. Instant communication :-

Mobile phones can also provide quick access to alternative communication channels, such as Twitter and Facebook, which are increasingly becoming more popular ways for businesses to reach customers and employees alike for mobiles.

3. Contact storage :-

* In the not-so-distant past, many business people relied on keeping a physical address book to store their contacts.

* Mobile phones in business have replaced these physical means of contact storage not at their office.

Limitations :-

- The study seems to provide a detailed view of the field study and hence inference drawn do not provide conclusive evidence to any social characteristics in particular atleast they aid as in getting an interesting view.
- The findings are based entirely upon the research conducted in Mumbai and hence may not be applicable directly to other metropolitan areas on account of socio-cultural diversity and contextual locality.
- With a larger sample size spread across the metropolitan cities in India one might arrive at results with higher confidence levels and also at trends for whole India in particular.
- Such a survey needs to be undertaken periodically to gauge the exact consumer perception that they keep changing with time.
- Due to constraints of time, certain topics have not been touched upon at all during the course of the study and in depth analysis may be further taken up in covered.

Basic mobile phone services do allow users to make calls and send text messages

All GSM phones use a SIM card do allow one account to be swapped among devices. Some other devices also have a similar card called an UIM.

Roaming which permits the same phone to be used in multiple countries, meaning that the operators of both countries have a roaming agreement.

Applications like a clock, alarm, calendar, contacts, and a few games.

Sending and receiving pictures, MMS, and for short distances with e.g. Bluetooth.

In multimedia phones Bluetooth is commonly but in feature.

GPRS receives important as connected to cell phones, primarily to send and receive services. This feature is quite well related to GPRS.

Advantages and disadvantages

1. Advantages of cell phone :-

- * keeps us connected

Objectives of the Activity Done:

Detailed Report:

I studied the very important way of gathering information about the mobile world.

There has been tremendous use growth of the mobile phone in India. It is reported that the India's mobile phone market is the second largest in the world. The mobile phone use available in phone technology has changed the world class. It provides great convenience in communication among people by way of direct calling & texting.

The first handheld cellular mobile phone was invented by Martin Cooper and Martin Cooper of Motorola. In 1973, after the work starting from 1973, cell phones have changed significantly from simple to smart. The cost of a cell phone is also remarkably reduced in recent days. This advanced technology is the next step change out. Today, we are not able to read, watch and listen to anything from anywhere in the world. This is called the mobile phone revolution. Mobile phone is considered as an important source of information.

Objective of the Activity Done:

Detailed Report:

I conducted this survey and very comprehensive and satisfying outcome about the mobile work.

On the basis of obtained results it can be said that majority of the college students are using the mobile phones and there are not many who are still using the old mobile phone. Also most of the students use internet for internet surfing, making call, and SMS and all. They have started using the laptop. Also use of mobile is more at night and compared to morning. It may also be said that most people are not using mobile to use. Another observation which is the most regular activity is that the present study will be useful to the students to find out the mobile addiction and accordingly measures can be taken. The security concerns may be of the factors that influenced by the mobile phone usage. The mobile phone use, also helps to overcome the feeling of loneliness. Some people are using the mobile phone so excessively that it causes the loss of addiction.

Objective of the Activity Done:

Detailed Report:

I conducted this survey and was comparatively very satisfying outcome of all the mobile work.

Mobile phones are powerful communication devices, mobile phones have become an integral part of everyone's life. There were more than 1000 mobile users around world wide. The number of mobile phone users is also rising rapidly every time. The mobile phone has helped from a technological tool to a social tool. Researcher strongly has explained that the telephone was made for the business world.

Nowadays mobile phones have become a part of student's studies. Mobile learning has emerged as a new technological achievement. With the use of mobile technology the learning is effective teaching and learning is possible. This is due to the benefits of mobile learning, including the ability to learn anywhere without any limits. The term "mobile learning" is still emerging day by day and its exact meaning is still unclear. There are mobile phones have several applications that can be useful in teaching and learning process.

usage of cell phone

Mobile phones are one of the most commonly used devices in today's world.

They come in use for communicating through voice messages and texts. We can also surf the internet using a phone. Most interestingly we can click photos and record videos through our mobile camera.

Advantages of mobile phone

- ⇒ easy communication. The main benefit of using the mobile phone is that they make the mode of communication easier and cheaper.
- ⇒ education
- ⇒ social media
- ⇒ promoting business
- ⇒ good for people's safety
- ⇒ helpful in emergency situations.

→ work may via mobile.

→ working the internet through mobile phone.

→ ease of information and mobility: providing the most for mobility by do it all and improved connectivity of smart phone.

→ staying connected: you can be contacted by friends and family even when you're busy about the internet life.

Disadvantages of mobility

There are so many disadvantages of using mobile phone. Gender inequality, social disruption, work-staying workers staying strategy, cost of accidents, health problems, youth crime, network issue, bank transaction error, hacking, etc. . . .

work life balance :- you could potentially be stuck at work even when office hours if be constantly disturbed by personal calls at work. other way it is disrupting balance.

missing essential :- not people are staying at their work before falling asleep in the dark of night. this can lead to physical blindness.

Impact of Mobility

- ⇒ Study also that people advised do their plans which are advised in depression, study also that mental stability.
- ⇒ Cost of time - The average search checks his phone every 12 minutes, leading to 20 minutes a day - but of the time people just check their phones for no good reason.
- ⇒ The mobile phone are used at places like hospitals, judicial courts, petrol pumps where their use is banned.
- ⇒ The subject may also pay some use in high mobile phone use.
- ⇒ The study will be done on experimental traffic and that will not be any hypothesis.

CHAPTER 6 : RECOMMENDATIONS AND CONCLUSIONS of THE MINI PROJECT

The survey is a simple examination of the needs and preferences of mobile phone users.

This study included also a description of the existing patterns of mobile phone usage.

Mobile phone technology has strongly impacted the way we work and spend our daily activities.

Despite the positive benefits of using a cell phone for people,
cell phones have completely changed our lives, people use them for their work, business, school, and so much more.
Cell phones are not just cell phones anymore. People use them for video chatting to their friends, surfing the web for news, taking pictures of their friends, using a GPS tracking system etc, the majority of people own cell phones and people rely on them more than ever.

Cell phones have become a part of everyday life and I could not imagine what it would be like living in life without having a cell phone. Living away at school still we also do keep in contact with our families at school.
I am far away from them.
